

Please join us in welcoming

Paul Nyhof

as the new

Chief Executive Officer

Prior to joining us, Paul was the CEO of Providence Place for Holiday Health & Providence Place Foundation in Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan. His responsibilities included providing Long Term Care and Interim Care Services, Ambulatory Care Clinic and Adult Day programs.

Paul's responsibilities have included strategic leadership, operations, human resources, financial management and risk management plus regulatory, clinical and accreditation standards for operations. He has been responsible for leading the development and maintaining of relationships with community leaders, advocacy or religious groups, local politicians, ministry staff, clients, hospitals, community agencies, service providers, staff, family members and the community at large.

Paul has experience developing communications and public relations strategies. He has facilitated the renewal of capital infrastructure and secured external funding. He developed a fundraising and investment strategy that saw revenue grow tremendously.

We believe Paul's experience and vision along with our dedicated and dynamic staff team will help lead our organization to new heights in 2019.

Julie Horne, Interim CEO, will continue to serve as CFO and we would like to thank Julie for her hard work, dedication and fundamental contributions during the last six months.

Thank you,

Glenn Crosby, Board Chair
